Re: 2008 Tech-Day Training Events

Happy New Year! Please find included this years "Tech-Day" Course Agenda for your review. We are excited about the courses we can offer and the quality of the instructors.

If you or your employee's give-up work time for training, it is important to get good information that you can apply to your work, and ultimately your client's satisfaction. The course topics and information available are relevant and useful in a large number of applications.

Advantage Stone & Hardscapes, Inc. sponsors this annual training event in the belief that each professional in our trade must continue to sharpen their skills and expand their knowledge to compete successfully. The future of our respective crafts will be determined by our individual desire to learn, improve, and serve. It is our privilege to serve you as a supplier of quality building stone and hardscape products. Thank you for a wonderful 2007!

While there is NO COST FOR THIS EVENT, we do ask that you RSVP with the number of people attending from you company so we can plan for seating and meals. Please contact our office at the following:

Phone (901) 753-2193
FAX (901) 753-2195
E-Mail Keith@advantagehardscapes.com

OR if it's on your travel path, stop and see us at our stoneyard located on the Agricenter farm property (61 Hycrop Row Drive, Memphis, TN 38120).

The product and information available for you in the EXPO will be a great addition to your libraries and each manufacturer or supplier will be their to discuss new products, technical support, and assist you with application information. Please be sure to thank them for their support of the Tech-Day event.

We anticipate attendance to be approximately 150 people this year so please call to confirm the number of people from your company who will be attending. This is a rain or shine event so mark your calendar and plan to attend. 2007 will be an exciting year and we look forward to seeing you at Tech-Day, Wednesday February 6th, 2008 beginning at 9:00 a.m..
